What inspired you to run for school board?
What makes you uniquely qualified to hold this position?

I was not happy with my children's education situation or the situation for my family members who teach in the district. I come from a military background and have proven my ability to effectively lead. I listen to everyone and base my decisions off the needs of the people I serve. I try to come up with solutions that work for all of us.

From your vantage point, what are KUSD voters' three biggest concerns in 2026?

1. Fiscal accountability
2. Safety
3. Student outcomes

What is the last book you read?

Currently reading the Anxious Generation

If you could seek advice from any person in history, who would it be and why?

Not really historical but Herb Brooks. 1980 USA Olympic Hockey Coach. Herb new how to inspire and lead with an unconventional team. To be able to pick his brain would be amazing and helpful in my current position.

What do YOU see as the three biggest challenges facing the school board?

1. Budget shortfalls
2. public trust
3. student and teacher safety

What are three things about you that voters should know, but cannot learn from reading your campaign materials?

1. I lead with integrity, honesty, and dedication.
2. I do not back down and push for what is right even if that is not the easy thing to do.
3. I am a fighter and have proven to be effective even as a minority on the board.
